

UPDATE ON THE AVIATION LEADERSHIP BREAKFAST AT NBAA 2021

Greetings from Austin,

We hope this finds everyone well and healthy. I am updating you on our plans for our Annual Aviation Leadership Breakfast. We had sent an email in March to see who may be planning to attend the upcoming Las Vegas NBAA convention and would be planning to join us at our Annual Leadership Breakfast. There were only 28 out of the 250+ we contacted that at that time were able to say they would be considering attending NBAA.

Since that time we completed another survey of past attendees and have heard from the majority of those we contacted that they unfortunately would not make it to our Leadership Breakfast this year. With so many unsure of travel plans or attendance to our Annual Leadership Breakfast, we regretfully have decided to not have the Aviation Leadership Breakfast this year.

We are going to send money to an Afghan Relief Agency in California and to Samaritans Purse in North Carolina for Haiti Relief, which hopefully will reach people in need just about the time when we would be having the Leadership Breakfast this year. You may remember our 2016 speaker, the Gold Star Mother, Debbie Lee, who has the organization American Mighty Warriors that ministers to and helps Gold Star families. Please remember Debbie and her team as they help those families deal with the loss of the sons and daughters in Afghanistan.

We look forward to coming back next year and having everyone join us again for the 2022 Annual Aviation Leadership Breakfast.

The Corporate Concepts team is all planning to be in Las Vegas to attend NBAA and we are available to meet with anyone that would like to visit with us. Just email Larry at lwright@flycci.com or Dennis at dblackburn@flycci.com and we can set up a time to meet with you.

Regards,
